SHORT NOTE

Date: July 2, 1969

An American of Jewish descent, who came to this country from Western Ukraine in the 1930's, visited Lviv, Kiev, Yalta and other places in Ukraine in May of 1969. He also went on his own without official permission to Voynyliv in Ivano-Frankivsk oblast. In ^{Lviv} ~~the~~ he ~~ja~~ met some of his old acquaintances who asked him about the activities of Ukrainian emigres and in particular about Mykola Lebed, about whom they had heard that he was wounded and at the present time in the hospital. The visitor denied the rumors, explaining that if something like this had happened, there would have been some mention of it in the press.

In Yalta the visitor met a Ukrainian student who asked him to send him some material on Shevchenko published abroad in English. His name is Volodymyr Vasylyovych Usantsev, vul. Studentskaya 10, apt. 52, Yalta.
